Sen. Dave Hansen Fights for Jobs!

In the state Senate, Dave Hansen has been an advocate for economic development for northeastern Wisconsin.

Senator Hansen supported eliminating a business tax that punished companies that created jobs in Wisconsin. And, Hansen supported cutting red tape to help manufacturers get environmental permits so they can expand.

Manufacturing is a vital part of the northeastern Wisconsin economy. And, Hansen has worked to help employers, and employees. When times were toughest, Hansen made sure workers got the unemployment insurance reforms they needed.

Hansen understands that businesses need common sense solutions — such as tax relief and regulation relief — in order for companies to grow and create jobs.
